Process for IASR ethics applications

‹ All IASR staff and postgraduate research (PGR) student projects must receive ethical approval via the IASR Research Institute Ethics Panel

‹ Advance notification of ethics application (F1 form) is now required. This should ensure applications are dealt with promptly. Applications should be submitted no later than three weeks after notification

‹ Please see the Figure 1 for an overview of process and timelines. The full suite of forms can be downloaded from FORMS
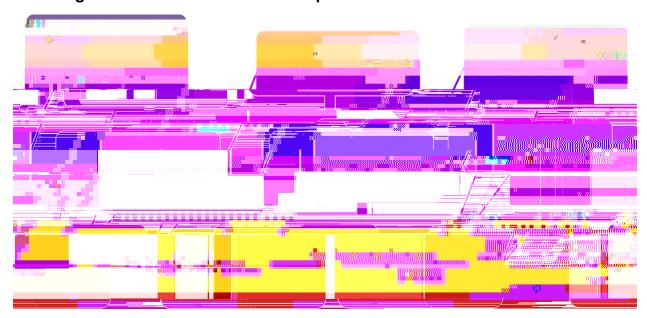

Figure 1 Overview of IASR ethics process and timelines

‹ Expedited approval is granted only in exceptional circumstances, i.e. where it has not been possible to submit an application any earlier and work is due to start imminently

‹ Once a F2: Full Ethics Application is received, the IASR Research Ethics Coordinator allocates two members of staff to independentlystaived,